PREFACE

There was a printed chart about 2 feet high and 3 feet long which was framed and which hung on the wall of my home in Meriden, Connecticut, as far back as I can remember. Actually it consisted of two charts one above the other. The top part showed the descendants of John Savage, of Middletown, Connecticut, who "married Elizabeth Dubbin, or Dublin, in Hartford, Ct, February 10, 1652."

The bottom chart started with Elisha Savage, the great-grandson of John, who married Thankful Johnson, May 6, 1755, and "settled in Berlin, Conn." Of their eleven children, the chart continued only with the line of their son Seth.

One limitation with this chart is that it continued only with the male lines, that is with those individuals who bore the name Savage. When a daughter married, it usually showed the date of her birth and the name of the husband, but no continuation of that line.

The latest date on that chart was 1893. There was no indication on that chart as to when it was prepared, nor by whom. On the chart the following authorities were cited: "Family Records, Berlin Cemeteries, Personal Recollections."

This book may be considered to be an extension of that chart for another century or so and with the inclusion of the female lines and other data where possible.

When I began researching for the preparation of this book, I found copies of that chart, or parts of it, to be in the hands of quite a few family members. Some had added more data of their own in ink. I had no idea who had prepared it until one copy was sent to me with the following certification hand written on its original:

"Meriden, Feb 21 - 1916
This is to certify that this chart was compiled by me, and that the information contained therein has been obtained

sources.

INTRODUCTION

Seth Savage was born in Cromwell, Connecticut, in 1755, and sometime after that, but before the end of the Revolutionary War, he removed with his family to East Berlin, Connecticut, on what was later to be known as Savage Hill.

Many of his descendants remained in Connecticut, but many others left, and we find their records in all of the New England states as well as in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Iowa, California, Washington, Oregon, and many others. In fact, there does not seem to be any state where some of these descendants have not lived.

With regard to the headers of the pages of the main portion of the text, a word of explanation is in order. The page numbers themselves are on the outer top corners of the pages in Arabic numerals. On the right-hand pages (odd numbered pages) in the top left corners (near the binding) is a Roman numeral which designates the generation being discussed on that page. On the left-hand pages in the top right corners (also near the binding) is a capital letter (S, L, W, J, or R) indicating which major branch of the family is involved (the descendants of Seth, Jr., Lucretia, William, Joseph, or Ruth).

With regard to the numbering of the families, each descendant who married and had children was given two numbers. The first was a simple sequential number. This number is listed with the children of the preceding generation and then above the descendant's name to enable the reader to follow down the line more easily. Then there is an eight-digit number below the descendant's name to show the position in the family. For example: Lucretia Savage was the fourth child of Seth and therefore was given the number 00000004. Her first child, Amelia Bailey, has the number 00000041. Fanny Jane Mallory, the sixth child of Amelia Bailey, has the number 00000416. And so on.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Without the interest and support of many family members this book would have been extremely brief and incomplete, if published at all.

Early on in the compiling of this work I wrote to Dona Esther (Bollman) Benedict for any information she might have on her branch [Lucretia's descendants]. She wrote back asking how far I wanted to depart from the Savage name. When I wrote back saying that I wanted all descendants, female as well as male lines, and that I considered the female line as important as the male, if not more so, since the female was the more certain of the lines and that it was usually the female who handed down the moral training, ethics, religion, etc., while the male often handed down only the name and the property, Dona wrote back that she had about a hundred family group sheets and charts. She also said she had three woman's lib daughters and was sending copies of my letter to each. A perusal of the footnotes in that branch will indicate how indebted I am to Dona. She is almost a co-author of this work.

Not far behind Dona are several other contributors. Stephen P. Shaw, now of East Haddam, CT, was extremely helpful with Ruth Savage's line. Willis Savage Whittlesey III sent a copy of his revised edition of The Genealogy of the Whittlesey-Whittelsey Family, which furnished a great amount of information on that branch. Elliot Standish Gallager and his wife Barbara Selma (Schwenk) Gallager sent a great amount of information on the Gallager line, as did their son Doug.

Dennis Raymond Savage is very interested in family history. He and his wife Rene Marie (St. Pierre) Savage were of tremendous help with their branch of the family.

Marion Katherine (Savage) Isakson helped connect me to other members in her branch. Gene McManus sent many, many charts and data sheets. R. Thomas Collins, Jr. not only furnished a copy of his book on the Savage-Collins origins, but also sent other data on that line. I would also like to acknowledge the patient help of my wife, Mary Irene, and the assistance of other mambers of my immediate family, my daughters Toni and Carroll and my son Albert III and his wife Jane. SETH SAVAGE OF BERLIN, CONNECTICUT

Seth Savage was born 8 Sep 1755,[1,2] the first child of Elisha and Thankful (Johnson) Savage, almost exactly four months after their marriage in the First Congregational Church of Cromwell, Connecticut. The records of that church show that on "Oct. 26, 1755 Elisha Savage & Thankful his wife made Christian satisfaction for their sin of fornication & were accepted,"[3] and that on "Nov. 9, 1755 Elisha Savage & Thankful his wife received their Baptismal covenants." Seth Savage was also baptized on that same date.[4]

The family later removed to what became known as Savage Hill in East Berlin, Connecticut. I find no record of his marriage in either Connecticut vital records or church records, but I have a family chart which says he married Esther Prudence De Wolf. There is also a typewritten copy of a Roys family Bible in the Connecticut State Library which says that "Seth Savage Born Sept 8th 1755 Died Oct 25 1842 Married Esther P------- DeWolf."[2] After the death of Esther he married, second, in Berlin, 24 January 1824, a widow Lois King of Meriden,[5] and third, in Berlin, 29 November 1828, Mrs. Anna Post,[6] who died 4 November 1836, Æ 72.[7]

Seth served in the Revolutionary War as a corporal. He died 25 October 1842[1,7] at "half past 2 o'clock PM Aged 87"[1] and was buried in the Wilcox Cemetery in East Berlin, Connecticut.

ESTHER PRUDENCE DE WOLF

In Perry's history of the De Wolf family,[8] among the children of Simon and Esther De Wolf, the author lists "Esther Prudence, b. Aug. 31, 1754; probably d. unmarried." The fact that no record of her marriage to Seth Savage is available in the official records of Middletown probably accounts for that statement. However, Seth Savage did apparently marry an Esther Prudence De Wolf, and her gravestone in the Wilcox Cemetery says, "In Memory of ESTHER P. wife of Seth Savage d. Oct. 30, 1815 æ 61." Seth's family Bible record says "Esther Savage wife of Seth Savage Senr. was born August 1754."[1] The Middletown vital records, as given in the Barbour Collection under De Wolf, lists "DOOLPH, Esther Prudence d. Simon & Esther, b. Aug. 31, 1754."

From the above we may conclude that Esther Prudence De Wolf was born in Middletown, Connecticut, 31 Aug 1754, the sixth child of Simon and Esther (Strickland) De Wolf (or Doolph, as he preferred to be called). She was baptized on 8 Sep 1754 in the First Church of Middletown,[9] but her parents both died before she had reached her eighth birthday; and sometime between 1773 and 1783 she had joined the Third Congregational Church at Westfield, Connecticut, for we find her name in an undated "List of Members since 1773"[10] there as "Esther Prudence De Wolf." She married Seth Savage within the next few years, for her first child was born early in 1783; and she died 30 Oct 1815.[1,7] She was remembered as "a very lovely Christian woman -- a great reader -- but delicate in health."[11]

FIRST GENERATION

OF DESCENDANTS

CHILDREN AND GRANDCHILDREN OF SETH

Seth Savage m. Esther Prudence DeWolf

ESTHER PRUDENCE SAVAGE

Esther Prudence Savage, the oldest child of Seth and Esther Prudence (De Wolf) Savage, was born, probably in Berlin, Connecticut, 25 March 1873.[1,2] She married in Berlin, 21 September 1820, Ozias Fowler, son of Caleb and Anne (Rose) Fowler,[3] and by him she had five children, but apparently none of these children ever married, for even in the 1880 census we find Samuel O. Fowler, age 57, a farmer, living in Branford with his brothers Joseph S. and William S., and keeping house for them was their sister Pamela.[4]

Esther died in Branford, Connecticut, 16 June 1839[2], and Ozias married, second, in Branford, 13 November 1839, Lucy Jones of Wallingford,[5] born 21 July 1788, died in Branford, 24 October 1876.[6,7] Ozias, a Civil War veteran, died in Branford, 21 February 1867.[8] Both Esther and Ozias are buried in the Damascus Cemetery in Branford.[6]

Children of Esther and Ozias Fowler:
(all born in Branford)

i. Samuel Ozias Fowler, b. 31 Aug 1822;[9] d. Branford, 12 Dec 1906, age 84; Civil War Veteran.[8]
ii. Esther Pamela Fowler, b. 16 Mar 1825;[10] d. Branford, 23 Apr 1896, age 71.[8]
iii. Joseph Seth Fowler, twin, b. 12 Mar 1827;[11] d. Branford, 12 Apr 1906, age 80.[8]
iv. William Sereno Fowler, twin, b. 12 Mar 1827;[11] d. Branford, 30 Jan 1895, age 66.[8]
v. Charles Augustus Fowler, b. 27 Oct 1828[12]; d. at Retreat for the Insane, Hartford, 9 Feb 1849 Æ 20.[13]

WILLIAM SAVAGE

William Savage, the fifth child of Seth and Esther Prudence (De Wolf) Savage, was born in Berlin, Connecticut, 26 November 1790.[1,2] He married, 26 October 1812[3], Hepzibah Hart Porter, daughter of Isaac and Hepzibah (North) Porter[1], born in Berlin, 25 Mar 1788,[2] or 29 October 1786.[4] He died in Berlin, 12 May 1848, Æ 58.[2] His widow Hepzibah died in Berlin 21 September 1861, of cirrhosis of the liver.[2,5] Both are buried in the Wilcox Cemetery.[2]

Children of William and Hepzibah Savage:

19. i. William Henry, b. 16 Feb 1814;[3] d. Berlin, 6 Jul 1851;[3,6,7] m. 6 Jun 1838, Adah Ann Camp,[3] dau. Lyman Coe & Emma (Coe) Camp, b. Durham, CT, 22 Mar 1816, d. Her age is given as 64 yrs., 10 mos., 15 days. Residence: Hartford. "Widow of Doc Luther Parmele." "Disease: For years she has had Phthisis but the immediate cause was cardiac paralysis."
14. A perusal of the Hartford City Directories shows that Luther Parmele first appeared as a dentist in Hartford about 1860-1861. He is shown as working with George L. Parmele, also a dentist, as early as 1865, and boarding with him at 25 Pratt until 1877. In the 1878 Hartford City Directory (p. 122) we find Mrs. Luther Parmele boarding at 25 Pratt. Parmelee Family, cited above, shows George Luther, born in Meriden 13 Jan 1848, as the third child of Luther by his first wife, Lavina Maria (Farrington) Parmelee. This is probably the George L. Parmelee, dentist, who became a partner with Luther.
15. Death certificate for Luther Parmele gives place of birth (but not date) and town and date of death. Primary cause of death given as liver disease.

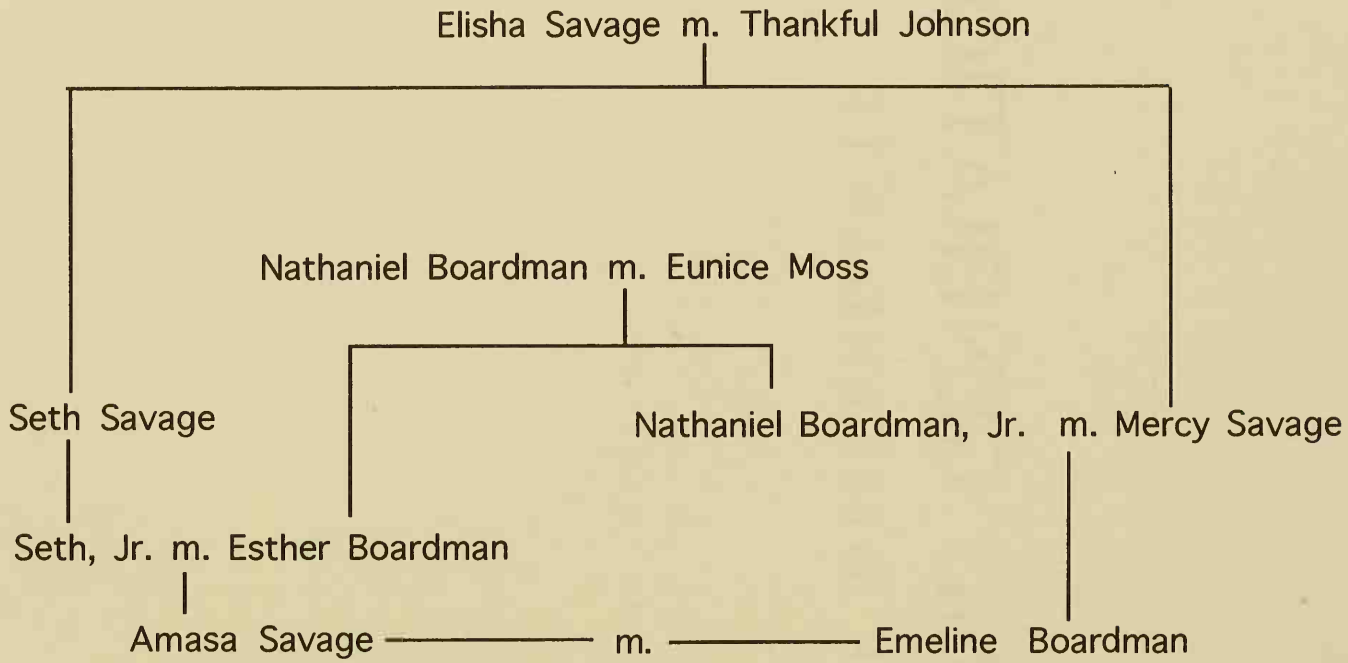
SECOND GENERATION

OF DESCENDANTS

RELATIONSHIP OF AMASA SAVAGE TO EMELINE BOARDMAN



7.
AMASA SAVAGE

Amasa Savage, the first child of Seth, Jr. and Esther (Boardman) Savage, was born in East Berlin, Connecticut, 14 April 1811.[1,2] He married first in Berlin, 17 April 1836, Emeline Boardman,[1,3,4] daughter of Nathaniel, Jr., and Mercy (Savage) Boardman, born in Westfield, Connecticut, 15 September 1809.[5,6]

Emeline Boardman was a first cousin once removed of Amasa Savage on his father's side, as her mother, Mercy Savage, was the youngest daughter of Elisha, and therefore a sister of Seth and an aunt of Seth, Jr. Emeline was also a first cousin of Amasa on his mother's side, since Esther Boardman was the youngest sister of Nathaniel Boardman, Jr.

Emeline died 4 May 1852,[7] and Amasa married, second, in Middletown, Connecticut, Marietta P. Atkins, daughter of Oliver Atkins, born there 25 October 1823.[6,7]

Amasa died 25 February 1870, and both he and Emeline are buried in the Wilcox Cemetery.[5] Marietta died in Meriden, Connecticut, 31 March 1901, æ "78 yrs, 7 mos., 6 days,"[8] and was buried in the Elmwood Cemetery in Vernon, Connecticut, 3 April 1901.[9]

Children of Amasa and Emeline Savage:

THOMAS SAVAGE

Thomas Savage, the third child of Seth, Jr. and Esther (Boardman) Savage, was born in Berlin, Connecticut, 5 March 1816.[1,2,3,4] He married in Cheshire, Connecticut, 15 April 1840, Esther Ulyssa Hough,[1,5,6] daughter of Joseph and Esther Ulyssa (Moss) Hough, born in Hamden, Connecticut, 10 July 1821.[4,7]

Thomas, Esther, and Mary are listed in the US Census for 1850, Conn., New Haven Co., Cheshire, p. 83B, line 19, dwelling 112, family 135. He was a farmer.

According to the Berlin Church Records[8] on 17 May 1857 letters were granted "to Thomas Savage + wife to unite with the Pres. Ch. in Racine Wisconsin." They are listed there in the US Census for 1860.[9] He was a "Day Labourer" with $1000 real estate and $300 personal estate. All 4 were born in Conn. Esther 37, Mary 13, William 9. By 1880 Thomas and Esther were back in Cheshire.[10]

Esther died in Cheshire on 18 February 1881,[11] and Thomas died in Berlin on 31 May 1883 of gastric fever, age 67 y, 2 m, 17 days.[12] They are both buried in the Hillside Cemetery in Cheshire.[13]

WILLIS SETH SAVAGE

Willis Seth Savage, the fourth child of Seth, Jr., and Esther (Boardman) Savage, was born in Berlin, Connecticut, 14 May 1818.[1,2,3,4] His earliest records show him as "Seth Willis Savage." Apparently that name caused some confusion with his father's, and he adopted the Willis as his first name. He married in Cheshire, Connecticut, 20 March 1839, Ulyssa Lois Moss,[1,3,5,6] daughter of Leverett, and Lois (Tuttle) Moss, born in Cheshire, 10 March 1820.[6,7]

Willis S. Savage was elected to the music committee of the Berlin Congregational Church for two years in 1869.[8] Ulyssa is listed in the US Census for 1870, Conn., Berlin, p. 33, family 344, as "Malissa."

Willis died in Berlin on 6 September 1885 of brain disease,[3,9,10] and Ulyssa died in East Berlin on 28 July 1902, age 82 yrs, 4 mos, 18 days.[5] They are both buried in the Wilcox Cemetery in East Berlin.[11]

Children of Willis and Ulyssa Savage:

ESTHER ULYSSA SAVAGE

Esther Ulyssa Savage, was the fifth and youngest child and only daughter of Seth, Jr., and Esther (Boardman) Savage. She was born in Waterbury, Connecticut, 1 November 1820.[1,2,3,4] The records of the Congregational Church in Berlin, Connecticut, show that Eulissa E. Savage was admitted to that church on 2 August 1835.[5] She married in Waterbury, 21 May 1843, Lyman Coe Camp, Jr.,[3] son of Lyman Coe and Emma (Coe) Camp, born in Durham, Connecticut, 2 July 1820.[3,6,7,8]

Lyman Coe Camp, Jr., was the brother of the Adah Ann Camp who married first William Henry Savage (#19), q.v. Lyman and Esther (or "Ulyssa") were still living in Waterbury in 1850,[9] but by 1865 had removed to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania,[10,11] and then to Santa Barbara, California, about 1887.[12,13]

Lyman died in Santa Barbara on 28 April 1897,[14] and Ulyssa died in Montecito, California on 26 October 1913, age 92 yrs, 11 mos, 25 days, of bronchitis and cardiac dyspnoea.[4] She is buried in the Santa Barbara Cemetery.[4]

Children of Ulyssa and Lyman Camp:

34. i. Harriett Pratt Camp, b. Waterbury, 29 Feb 1844;[3] d. Santa Barbara, 28 Sep 1910;[15] m. (prob. in Philadelphia) abt 1880, Aaron C. Butler, d. before 1887.[10]

AMELIA BAILEY

Amelia Bailey was the oldest child of Jabez Bailey, Jr., and Lucretia (Savage) Bailey. She was born in Durham, Connecticut, 10 December 1810.[1,2] In an outline of the events in the life of Amelia (Bailey) Graves prepared by her great granddaughter, Dona Benedict, January 21, 1995, the author states that Amelia was born in Durham, and married there, 5 December 1825, John Adams Graves, son of John and Hannah (Crain) Graves.[3] They moved to Ashtabula, OH, in the period 1831-1835, and then to Toolesboro, Louisa Co., IA, in 1837, where John died Sept. 6, 1837.

Amelia married, second, in Louisa County, 19 July 1838, Riley Mallory,[4] son of Asa and Fanny Mallory, born in Connecticut in 1808.[2] He died in Louisa County 14 June 1862,[5,6] and she married, third, on 23 September 1872, William W. Wood,[3,7] who was born in Pennsylvania about 1813.[8]

Amelia died on 31 January 1888.[9]

Children of Amelia and John Graves:

1. Letter, family group sheet, and chart received from Dona E. Benedict, 14 Feb 1994. Dona is the great granddaughter of Frances A. Graves. The Barbour Collection and also ^History of Durham^ both state that Frances Amelia Graves was born 9 Jun 1821, an obvious error as Amelia, her mother, was only 11 years old in 1821.
2. William Chauncy Fowler, History of Durham (1866) on microfilm, Connecticut State Library, Hartford. On the cover of the box it states, "original vital records said to no longer exist.". The Barbour Collection also says she was born in Durham.

6. In a letter of 31 Jul 1996, Dona says, "I have been studying the big pedigree chart you sent. I am firmly convinced that Riley Mallory d. 14 June, 1862. Enclosed are the pages I got from the Mallory Cemetery records when we were in Wappelo IA (1990). I also have cemetery pictures of the stone which is cracked and repaired. Even so it would be pretty hard to read it as 1861. Also see the page from the diary. Frances was still in Toolsboro June 1861 and she certainly wouldn't have written it that way a year later. I rest my case."

HENRY WILLIAM BAILEY

Henry William Bailey, was the second child and oldest son of Jabez Bailey, Jr., and Lucretia (Savage) Bailey, born in Durham, Connecticut, 20 December 1812.[1,2] He married there 12 August 1837 Mary Parsons,[1,2] who was born in Connecticut about 1814.[3] He was a merchant in Durham and a Southern sympathizer, and his shop was burned three times.[4,5]

Children of Henry and Mary Bailey:
i. Mary A. Bailey, b. CT, abt. 1844.[3]
ii. Elizabeth (?) Bailey, b. CT, abt. 1848.[3]
iii. Fanny Baldwin Bailey, b. Durham, 8 Jul 1859.[3,6]

3. 1860 Census for Durham (p. 331, Dwelling 127, Fam. 142) (2d filming, Film #0803083) is almost illegible. It shows Henry W. Bailey (47) a merchant, with his wife Mary (45) and daughter Mary A. Bailey (16) and a daughter (appears to be Elizabeth) (12) and another child age 1, all born in Connecticut, and living with them Lucretia Bailey (70).

5. There was another Henry W. Bailey in Connecticut at this time, not to be confused with our Henry. He was a stone cutter, living in Saybrook in 1850 and in Essex in 1860.

DANIEL JOHNSON BAILEY

Daniel Johnson Bailey, was the fourth child and second son of Jabez Bailey, Jr. and Lucretia (Savage) Bailey, born in Durham, Connecticut, 10 June 1817.[1,2] He married in New Haven, Connecticut, 17 May 1841 Mary Caroline Johnson,[1,3] who was born in Stamford, Connecticut, 28 February 1815.[3] He worked with his son Albert as a grocer at 109 Church Street in New Haven and resided at 52 Lafayette.[4]

He died in New Haven on 25 March 1872 of peritonitis at the age of 55.[5] Mary died there on 11 November 1890 of valvular disease of the heart at the age of 75 years, 8 months, and 12 days.[6] Both are buried in the Evergreen Cemetery in New Haven.[7]

Children of Daniel and Mary Bailey:

JULIA ANN BAILEY

Julia Ann Bailey was born in Durham, Connecticut, 18 November 1820, the fifth child and third daughter of Jabez Bailey, Jr., and Lucretia (Savage) Bailey.[1,2]. She married in Warren,[3] Theodore Curtiss, son of Ichabod and Selina (Camp) Curtiss.[4,5] They resided in Illinois, and Theodore died in Oquawka, Illinois in 1845;[5] Julia died after 1917.[6]

Child of Julia and Theodore Curtiss:
44. i. Theodore Curtiss, Jr., resided in Gladstone, IL.[5]

3. Although it is quite likely that they married in Warren, the state remains in some doubt. The only Theodore Curtiss in the Barbour Collection was a Theodore Curtiss married in 1837 in Warren, Connecticut. Dona Benedict says, "In IGI Julia's marriage given as 01 Jan 1840, Warren, Iowa. They did live in Iowa and the record at Hartford State Library was different than other marriages that I saw and I wondered why until I found this as Iowa." However, there is also a Warren in Illinois. There is no Theodore Curtiss in the Iowa 1850 or 1860 census indexes.

Mary Savage Bailey, the sixth child and third daughter of Jabez Bailey, Jr. and Lucretia (Savage) Bailey was born in Durham, Connecticut, 26 October 1821.[1] She was married in Norwich, Connecticut, to Frederick W. Pelton on 27 May 1846 by the minister of the Universalist Church.[1,2] At that time they were both residents of Norwich, but they removed to Middletown, where we find them in the 1860 census.[3] Frederick worked with silver.

Dona Benedict writes about "Aunt Mary and Uncle Fred (Pelton) who had two daughters, Mary and Gertie (Gertrude)," citing the diary of Frances Graves, Amelia's daughter. Perhaps Mary was the younger, which would explain her absence in the 1860 census, when Gertrude was only three years old.

According to the Chatham Vital Records, as listed in the Barbour Collection, Frederick Wetmore Pelton, son of Ebenezer & Prudence, was born 30 May 1822. Is this the husband of Mary Bailey, above? If so, it would seem to indicate that the 1821 birth date for Mary is reasonable.

These same Chatham records show that Ebenezer Brown Pelton, s. Abner, Jr. & Esther, was born 22 Apr 1802, and that Ebenezer B. Pelton m. Prudence Penfield, b. of Chatham, 27 Mar 1822.

Mary died 9 March 1870 at the age of 47, and Frederick died 4 April 1901 at the age of 78. Both are buried in the New Cemetery in Durham.[4]

Children of Mary and Frederick Pelton:

i. Gertrude Pelton, b. Middletown, CT, 28 Feb 1857[5] [she married and removed to Rockport, IL].[6]

ii. Mary Pelton.

JUSTUS JABEZ BAILEY

Justus Jabez Bailey, was the seventh child and third son of Jabez Bailey, Jr. and Lucretia (Savage) Bailey. He was born in Durham, Connecticut, 14 March 1824.[1] On 7 May 1845 he married there Eunice E. Lynn,[1,2] who was born in Killingworth, Connecticut, 5 May 1826.[3]

Justus died 20 June 1852 at the age of 28,[1,4] and is buried in the New Cemetery in Durham. Eunice married, second, in Durham, 2 April 1854, Francis Hubbard,[5] who was born in Middletown about 1817.[6] She died in Durham, 20 August 1856, age 30 years, 3 months and 15 days of consumption.[4,7] Francis then married there, 6 April 1857, Susan E. Camp.[5]

No record of any children from either marriage has been found.

Lydia Jane Bailey was born in Durham, Connecticut, 18 November 1820, the eighth child and youngest daughter of Jabez Bailey, Jr., and Lucretia (Savage) Bailey.[1,]. She married there, 10 March 1845, Worthington Scranton,[1,2] who was born in Connecticut in 1823 and died, 12 May 1907, probably in New Haven, Connecticut.[3]

Lydia died 8 June 1849, aged 23, and was buried in the New Cemetery in Durham.[4] After her death Worthington married, second, 2 January 1851, in New Haven, Connecticut, Ellen E. Brown of New Haven,[5] born 1834, died 1894.[6]

Children of Lydia and Worthington Scranton:

i. Ellen Scranton, b. abt. 1845.[7]

HARRIETT NEWEL SAVAGE

Harriett Newel Savage, the oldest child of Joseph and Clarissa (Cheney) Savage, was born in Berlin, Connecticut, 11 August 1819.[1,2,3] She was admitted to the Berlin Second Congregational Church on 2 August 1835. She married in Berlin in 1839, Noah C. Smith,[4] who was born in Portsmouth, New Hampshire, 28 September 1814.[3,5,6] Noah was admitted to the same church 7 May 1843.

In the 1870 census[7] we find them living in Berlin two houses away from Edwin and Frances Savage (and their children Ellen and George).

The youngest child of Noah and Harriett was called "Infant daughter, age 1/12" in the 1850 census,[8] and "daughter, b. 11 May 1850" in the Berlin Vital Records,[9] but "Charles C. Smith, age 10, m" in the 1860 census,[10] and "Claratina Smith, F, age 20" in the 1870 Census,[7] and "Clara Smith, f, age 30, daughter" in the 1880 census.[11] She is "1850 Clara Cheney Smith 1930" on her gravestone.[12]

Harriett died in Berlin, 23 May 1881 of membranous croup, age 61.[13] Noah died there 21 March 1896, age 81, of apoplexy.[12,14] Both are buried in the Wilcox Cemetery.[12]

4. According to pencilled notes of Gladys (Gailey) Gallager, sent to me by Barbara Gallager, "William Southmayd, Jr." was the son of William V and Desiah (Clay) Southmayd, as shown below. Hence the father of Sarah Foote Southmayd was probably not "William, Jr.," but actually William VI.
   An immigrant ancestor of this family was also named William, born about 1515-16. Tradition says he was the second son of John and Anne (Wood) Southmayd of Co. Devon, Eng. He came to America and lived in Gloucester, MA. He married Millicent Adder, 28 Nov 1642. He died about 1648.
   William Southmayd, Jr., son of Wm & Millicent, was born in Salem, MA, 21 Sep 1643. He married (1) Esther Hamlin, and (2) Margaret Allyn, dau. of Col. John Allyn of Hartford. He died in Middletown, 4 Dec 1702.
   William Southmayd III, son of William, Jr., and Margaret, b. Middletown, 9 Jan 1699, m. Mehitabel Dwight of Woodstock. He died 15 Oct 1747.

JOSEPH ANDERSON SAVAGE

Joseph Anderson Savage, the third and youngest child of Joseph and Clarissa (Cheney) Savage, was born in Berlin, Connecticut, 3 February 1827.[1,2] On 20 June 1855 he married Maria Herrson,[1] who was born in Ohio about 1830.[3]

The Berlin Congregational Church Records show that he removed to Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1856. From the Cincinnati City Directories we find that in 1869 he was a bookkeeper on the east side of Ludge St. above 5th, with a home on the northeast corner of 7th and Linn. In 1871 he was still a bookkeeper, but had removed his residence across the river to Ludlow, Kentucky. By 1875 he was "treas. and sec'y Kirby Bung Manuf." In 1880 he was working at Fred Lunkenheimer's, a brass founder, Cincinnati Brass Works, on Lodge Street, with his residence still in Ludlow.[4]

In the 1880 U.S. Census for Kentucky[5] we find living with this family one L. S. Savage (26), boarder, furnace maker. This is undoubtedly Leonard Southmayd Savage, born 1854 and married in 1886 and son of Joseph Anderson Savage's brother Elliot.

Joseph Anderson Savage died 1 June 1889.[1]

Children of Joseph Anderson and Maria Savage:

i. Laura Evaline, b. Ohio, 23 Oct 1857;[1,6] unm., living in 1920.[7]
ii. Joseph Willard, b. Ohio, 18 Jun 1859;[1,5,6] unm. and living in 1920.[7]
iii. Mary Ada, b. Ohio, 26 Apr 1868;[1,5] unm. and living in 1920.[7]
iv. Clarissa Mabel, b. 24 Sep 1872;[1] d. 27 Jun 1873.[1]

Maria L. Bulkeley, the oldest child of Justus, Jr., and Ruth (Savage) Bulkeley, was born in Berlin, Connecticut, on 17 April 1821.[1] She married there 26 Sep 1843, Lyman Wilcox, born there about 1819.[2] He died there 10 March 1855[3] of pneumonia,[4] aged 36.[5] She died there 1 Dec 1858, age 37 y. 7 m, 14 d, of pulmonary consumption,[5,6,7] and both are buried in the Wilcox Cemetery there.[5]

Their son Robert was "left an orphan at the age of nine and was reared by his maternal grandmother and an aunt, Mrs. Lester Booth of New Britain. At the age of 14 he entered a printing office in Hartford and later in Boston. . . . After learning his trade he came to Meriden and was for a time employed on the old Meriden Recorder. He later left Meriden to live in New Haven, but returned in 1875 and became manager of the sales department of Rogers, Smith & Co. He remained with them until the concern became part of the International Silver Co. In May 1884 he married Ella Wheeler, the famous author and poet. . . .In 1889 he established the firm of Wilcox & Wagoner, sterling silver manufacturers, from which he retired in 1906 and [then] spent his winters in travel and summers in his beautiful home in Granite Bay, Short Beach."[8]

MARY AMELIA BULKELEY

Mary Amelia Bulkeley was born in Berlin, Connecticut, about 1830,[1] the fourth child and second daughter of Justus, Jr., and Ruth (Savage) Bulkeley. She married there in December 1854 Francis Chambers. Francis was born in Rocky Hill, Connecticut, 7 May 1828, the son of George A. and Martha (Robbins) Chambers, and baptized there 31 October of that year. The records of the 2d Congregational Church in Berlin say, "Francis Chambers of Bridgeport + Mary A. Bulkley of Berlin were by me united in marriage December 11th 1854. William DeLoss Love, Pastor of 2d Cong. Church Berlin," but the town record says "m. Dec. 11, 1852." [2,3] Francis was a lawyer according to his marriage record.

In the 1860 census for Berlin we find them living in Berlin with only one child, Agnes (4). He was not found in the 1870 census for Berlin. In the 1900 census[4] we find Francis Chambers, born in May 1828, living at 58 Imlay St. in Hartford, Connecticut, with wife Emma H. D. Chambers (53), born May 1847, and living with them were a daughter, Natalie (17), born October 1882, and a son, George D. Chambers (16), born May 1884, and also his mother-in-law, Jarriett H. Dickenson (79), born October 1820. All were born in Connecticut. He had been married 18 years. It would appear that Mary Amelia had died and that he had married a second time about 1881/2.

Emma H. D. Chambers, wid. Francis, died 24 Dec 1934, age 87.[5] The death certificate of Francis says he died in Hartford, 26 December 1912, and that his father, George A. Chambers was born in Oxford, Connecticut, and that his mother Martha, was born in Wethersfield. No record of the death of Mary Amelia has been found.

Child of Mary and Francis Chambers:

53. i. Agnes Bulkeley Chambers, b. Berlin, 3 Dec 1855;[6] bp. Berlin, 5 Apr 1857;[7] d. Hartford, 11 Jul 1936, age 80; m. 24 Jun 1886, Franklin Deming Rood, s. David Alonzo & Maria (Woodford) Rood, b. Hartford, 17 Dec 1851, d. there 22 Jan 1936, age 84;[9,10] both bur. Spring Grove, Hartford.[10]

HARRIET SOPHIA BULKELEY

Harriet Sophia Bulkeley was born in Berlin, Connecticut, about June 1832, the fifth and youngest child of Justus, Jr., and Ruth (Savage) Bulkeley. She married there 6 October 1852, Lester Smith Booth, son of Elisha P. and Elvira A. (Squires) Booth, born in New Britain, Connecticut, about January 1828.

Harriet died in New Britain, 6 March 1896, of pneumonia, aged 63 years, 9 months. Lester died there 22 August 1898 of chronic nephritis and dropsy, age 70 years 7 months. Both are buried in the Maple Cemetery in Berlin.

Harriet E. Savage, the third child and third daughter of Amasa and Emeline (Boardman) Savage, was born in Berlin, Connecticut, 30 November 1841.[1,2] She married there 1 February 1865, Asaph Merriam II,[3] son of Salmon and Minerva (Rice) Merriam, born in Meriden, Connecticut, 13 July 1845.[4]

In May 1867 they removed to Meriden,[4] but on 22 September 1892 they were dismissed from the Meriden Church to the Congregational Church in South Acton, Massachusetts.[4,5]

Asaph joined C. W. Chadwick in Acton in 1888. He had begun manufacturing piano stools in Meriden at age 28. He came to Acton a year after his factory had burned. When Mr. Chadwick retired in 1891, Mr. Merriam bought the business and took in with him his two sons, Frank A. Merriam and William T. Merriam. After Asaph's death the sons carried on, and in 1925 reorganized to include their sons, Harold and Herbert.[6]

Harriet died in Acton on 29 October 1897 at the age of 55 yrs, 11 mos, 0 days of muscular atrophy,[7] and Asaph married, second, in South Acton on 7 June 1899 Harriet Emma Jones, daughter of Abram and Harriet E. (Hosmer) Jones, born in Acton in July 1854.[8,9]

Asaph died there 13 October 1923 at the age of 78 y, 3 mos of apoplexy.[10] His second wife, Harriet, died in Concord, Massachusetts, 31 December 1928.[11] Asaph and both of his wives are buried in the Woodlawn Cemetery in Acton.[12]

Children of Harriet and Asaph Merriam:

55. i. Frank Asaph Merriam, b. Meriden, 14 May 1870;[13,14] d. Acton, MA, 10 Jun 1943;[10,12] m. (1) Acton, 2 Dec 1891, Bertha M. Jones,[13] dau. James F. & Elizabeth (Whitney) Jones, b. The Meriden Vital Records say 9 Aug 1876, although no name is given for the "female child." Pope's Merriam Genealogy, p. 339, says "about 1877." The preponderance of the evidence would suggest that either the age given at death was miscalculated by one year, or she died in 1938, as indicated on her gravestone.

LUCETTA HELEN SAVAGE

Lucetta Helen Savage, the fourth child and fourth daughter of Amasa and Emeline (Boardman) Savage, was born on 15 March 1843.[1] She was single in 1860, but sometime in the next decade she married Cornelius Griswold who was born in Connecticut about 1825[2] and was baptized in Rocky Hill, Connecticut, on 2 July 1826.[3] He was probably the son of Jacob and Sally (Berry) Griswold.[4] Lucetta and Cornelius lived in Bridgeport, Connecticut.[1]

Cornelius died in Rocky Hill on 20 December 1870 at the age of 45, and was buried there,[5] and after his death Lucetta married, second, Andrew Sexton, Brooklyn, New York. She died 28 March 1890.[1]

LUCY ELLEN SAVAGE

Lucy Ellen Savage, the second child and second daughter of Edwin and Frances Sophia (Wilcox) Savage, was born in Berlin, Connecticut, 15 January 1849.[1,2] and was baptized there in the Congregational Church, 3 September 1849.[3] Throughout her life she was called "Nellie" and is so referred to even in most official records. She married in Berlin, 2 October 1872, Edward Allen

Boardman,[4,5] son of Albert and Mary (Rice) Boardman, born in Middletown, Connecticut, 6 August 1843.[6]

GEORGE EDWIN SAVAGE

George Edwin Savage, the third and youngest child and only son of Edwin and Frances Sophia (Wilcox) Savage, was born in Berlin, Connecticut, 27 February 1851,[1,2,3,4] and was baptized there in the Congregational Church, 31 October 1851.[5] He attended Wesleyan Academy in Wilberham, Massachusetts, and at age of seventeen came to Meriden, Connecticut, to enter the Meriden Brittania Company under his uncle, Horace C. Wilcox. He bacame manager of the showrooms with that company, and when Manning, Bowman & Co. needed a new manager, he was prevailed upon to accept that position. In 1898 he was elected president and treasurer, and was instrumental in the remarkable growth of that company.

He was married 9 June 1875 to Charlotte P. Foster,[2,6,7] daugher of Albert and Hannah (Merriam) Foster, born there 3 June 1848 [8] The ceremony, which was conducted by Rev. A. R. Hall of the Congregational Church, took place at the home of the bride's father in the presence of many friends.[7]

Charlotte used the name "Lottie" almost exclusively. Most of the relatives I have talked to who knew her referred to her as "Aunt Lottie" or "Lottie." The newspaper account of her wedding refers to her as "Lottie P. Foster." I have an insurance policy that George took out in 1876, and the beneficiary was named as "Lottie P. Savage Wife of George E. Savage." Lottie died in Meriden on 12 February 1916,[7] and was buried in Walnut Grove Cemetery in Meriden.[10] George married, second, in San Jose, California, 1 September 1916, Mildred Fuller Foster,[2,11,12] daughter of Lauren Matthew and Della Ann (Fuller) Foster, born in Ironton, Wisconsin, 8 May 1881.[2]

George was an ardent fisherman and game bird hunter and golfer. He was also an active civic leader, being a director of the Meriden National Bank and of the Meriden Hospital, and a trustee of the Meriden Y.M.C.A., to which he left an acreage in Durham, Connecticut, which was made into a summer camp. He was also a trustee of the First Congregational Church of Meriden and a director of Foster, Merriam & Co.

George died at his home on Lincoln Street in Meriden on Sunday morning, 2 December 1928, in his sleep of an acute heart attack.[2,3,4] He was buried in Walnut Grove Cemetery.[10] After his death his wife, Mildred, returned to the home of her parents in San Jose. On 11 July 1934 in San Jose she married her step-son and first cousin, Albert Wilcox Savage. She returned to Meriden to live with him, and after his death she again went back to California, this time to live with her sister, Eva (Foster) Wagner, in Claremont. She died in a rest home, Mt. San Antonio Gardens in Pomona, California, 10 July 1969.[4] and her ashes are in the Evergreen Mausoleum in San Jose.

HENRY ELLIOT SAVAGE

Henry Elliot Savage, the oldest child of Wyllis Seth and Ulyssa Lois (Moss) Savage, was born in Berlin, Connecticut, 9 February 1840.[1,2,3,4] He was married in the North Greenwich Congregational Church on 18 December 1865 to Caroline Theodosia Knapp,[1,5,6] daugher of Isaac and Theodosia (Meade) Knapp, born in Greenwhich, Connecticut, 4 March 1842. [2,3,4] Henry was a farmer in Berlin, specializing in dairy cattle, poultry, and orchards. He was a member of the grange, a deacon of the Berlin Congregational Church, and from 1894 to 1903 a trustee of the Berlin Savings Bank.[7]

Henry E. Savage enlisted in Middletown on 30 July 1862 in the 16th Connecticut Volunteers. He became a sergeant at Antietam on 17 September

1862. He was captured 20 April 1864 and was sent to Andersonville Prison in Georgia. Early in December 1864 he was exchanged. On 24 June he was mustered out and returned to Berlin.[8]

He suffered a stroke in 1903,[7] and died at home on Savage Hill in East Berlin on 4 January 1907 of pneumonia.[9] A "testimonial on the death of Deacon Henry E. Savage, 4 Jan 1907" was published in the records of the 2nd Congregational Church of Berlin.[10]

Caroline died there 6 May 1925 from "cardio-vascular renal syndrome, due to arterio sclerosis, due to senility,"[11] and both are buried in the Wilcox Cemetery there.[2]

WILLIS MOSS SAVAGE

Willis Moss Savage, the third and youngest child of Wyllis Seth and Ulyssa Lois (Moss) Savage, was born, probably in Berlin, Connecticut, 22 November 1845.[1,2,3] He married first, 5 January 1870, Fannie A. Penfield,[1,2] daugher of Leverett and Elizabeth S. (Robinson) Penfield, born in Connecticut, in 1846 [1,2,3,4,5] He was admitted to the Berlin 2d Congregational Church 10 May 1857, and dismissed to the Center Congregational Church in Philadelphia, 23 February 1868. He moved to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and he and Fanny lived at the same address as Lyman and Ulyssa (Savage) Camp, and both Lyman and Willis were clerks in a bakery.[6] They soon moved to Baltimore, Maryland, and in 1873 he was "manager, W.E. & N.H. Camp, 118 Gough."[7]

Fannie died in Hartford, Connecticut, 11 July 1893, of cancer,[1,2,8,9] and Willis married, second, in Wethersfield, Connecticut, 2 June 1897, Adelaide L. Griswold, who was born there in November 1857.[10,11]

Willis died in Newington, Connecticut, of chronic myocarditis on 19 April 1918,[8,12,13] and both he and Fannie are buried in the Spring Grove Cemetery in Hartford.[13]

Children of Willis and Fannie Savage:

67. i. Wilfred Willis, b. Baltimore, MD,[14] 26 Jul 1872;[1,2] m. Wethersfield, 4 Apr 1899, Anna Cushman Robbins,[2,14] dau. Silas Webster & Jane (Johnson)

HARRIET PRATT CAMP

Harriet Pratt Camp, the oldest child of Esther Ulyssa (Savage) and Lyman Coe Camp, Jr., was born in Waterbury, Connecticut, 29 February 1844.[1] She married Aaron C. Butler. Although no record of that marriage has been found, it probably occurred in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, between 1875 and 1880.[2]

Aaron was probably born in Cincinnati, Ohio, about 1845,[3] and died probably in Philadelphia, before 1886, for in that year we find in the Philadelphia City Directory Harriet P. Butler listed as a widow.[2] She removed to Santa Barbara, California about 1887.[2,4]

Harriet died in Santa Barbara, from a cerebral hemorrhage following chronic nephritis on 28 September 1910, and she was buried in the Santa Barbara Cemetery.[4,5]

Children of Harriet and Aaron Butler:

i. William Nelson Butler, b. Philadelphia abt. 1879;[6] living in 1900.[6]

ii. Esther E., b. PA, Jan 1881;[6] living in CA in 1900.[6]

---

1. Waterbury Vital Records, 3:361.
2. From Philadelphia City Directories:
   1863-4 we find no Lyman Camp, but do find William E., baker.
   1865-6 we find Camp Lyman, cake baker, 12 So. 10th.
   1867 we find Camp Lyman C., gent., 1910 Mt. Vernon.
   1870 there was no Aaron C. Butler, but Lyman C. Camp was living at 1910 Mt. Vernon.
   1875 the same was true except that Lyman C, Camp was a "machinist." Emma C. Camp, widow, was h 1627 Mt. Vernon. Also William E. Camp, who worked at William E & Nelson H Camp, bakers, lived at 1627 Mt. Vernon.
   "Nelson H. Camp (W.E. & N.H. Camp) h. Conn."
   1880 we find Aaron C. Butler, h 1910 Mt. Vernon.
   1881, p. 286: Camp Lyman C. h. 1910 Mt. Vernon; p. 275: Butler, Aaron C. h 1910 Mt. Vernon.
   1886 we find Butler, Harriet P., widow, h. 1910 Mt. Vernon, and Camp Lyman C., h 1910 Mt. Vernon.
   1888 we find neither Harriet nor Lyman listed.
3. It is rather rare to find a city of birth listed in a census, but in the 1880 U.S. Soundex for Pennsylvania we do find Aaron C. Baker, age 34, born in Cincinnati, living at 1910 Mt. Vernon, Philadeplhia, with wife Harriet P. Butler, 35 (also b. "Cincinnati") and son Wm Nelson Butler, age 1, born Penna. The 1880 census itself, Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, SD 1, ED 267, page 18, line 6, 1910 Mt. Vernon St., Dwelling 127, Fams. 142 and 143, shows them living with Lyman and Ulyssa Camp. All there are shown to be born in Conn. except Wm Nelson Butler born Penna. Also the word "Ohio" is written above the "Conn" birthplace.
4. The death certificate of Harriet Pratt Butler. It says that her length of residence at place of death (1810 Chapala St., Santa Barbara, in 1910) was 26 years. The informant was "Mrs. P.O. Buell."
5. US Census Soundex, 1910 California, Santa Barbara, Santa Barbara 107 0221 0403, shows Harriet P. Butler, 65, head, and Ulyssa E. Camp, 89, mother, both b. Conn.
6. 1900 U.S. Census of Santa Barbara County, CA, second township, Santa Barbara City, S.D. 6, E.D. 155, sheet number 1, dwelling 9, family 9 (microfilm T623, roll 109).

FRANCES AMELIA GRAVES

Frances Amelia Graves, was the oldest child of John Adams and Amelia (Bailey) Graves. She was born in Middletown, Connecticut, 9 June 1826.[1,2] She married in Wapello, Louisa County, Iowa, on 23 December 1843, Samuel Sala, son of Jacob and Magdalena (Mark) Sala.[3] Frances's great granddaughter, Dona Benedict, says that this was Samuel's third marriage. He had been married to (1) Esther Bell, and (2) Lucinda Devore. Lucinda committed suicide 7 mos. after marriage. Frances left him. She writes in her diary, "Nineteen years ago I married a man I did not love. Foolish girl."[3]

Frances married, second, in Wapello, 12 April 1870, James H. Cook,[3] born in Connecticut about 1820.[4] He died in Columbus, Kansas, in 1898, and was cremated in Missouri.[4]

Dona has sent me a copy of a letter written by Frances A. M. Cook (I am not sure why she is called "Frances A. M." instead of "Frances A. G.") to Hattie O. (Story) Sala, headed (Elm Place) Col. Kansas, started on 28 April 1915 and written over several days. [Frances herself died less than two years later]. Dona sent both a copy of the entire original, and typewritten excerpts for easier reading. On May 6 [page 3] Frances writes," 70 years ago this morning I was ironing by the fire place. I lived where Aunt Julia now owns. I had folded my clothes the day before & when I found I was in labor I got up before light and went to work. He was not born until nearly 4. PM. It seems so strange to think he has been dead so long." [This is in reference to John Adams Graves Sala.]

"In Oct. 1916, Mamie Sala, her granddaughter, went to Kansas to take her to California to live with her daughter-in-law Hattie O. Sala, at Gridley, Butte County. . . .Frances is buried in the same plot in the Gridley-Biggs Cemetery as Eli and Hattie Sala and four of her granddaughters plus my father."[4]

Frances died in Gridley, 19 January 1917.[1]

FANNY JANE MALLORY

Fanny Jane Mallory, the sixth child of Amelia Bailey, was actually the first child by her second marriage [to Riley Mallory]. Fanny was born in Toolsboro, Jefferson Township, Louisa County, Iowa, on 30 August 1840.[1,2,3] She married there 15 February 1857, Asher Sillick, son of Milton and Deborah (Cook) Sillick.[4,5] Asher was born in Norwalk, Connecticut, 8 March 1828.[1,6] His father, Milton Sillick, had been born in Wales and lived in Norwalk. Deborah Cook, born in England, was said to have been wealthy, but when she married her father's coachman, she was disowned.[2]

In a letter from Frances Amelia (Graves) Sala to Muriel Sala dated March 4, 1914, she says,"I got a letter from Fannie + she said Feb 15 was the 57th anniversary of her + Ashers marriage. . . They have 8 children 16 grandchildren + three great grand children all living and well but Annie Parsons (Mary's youngest girl. She had her hand taken off + now they want to take her arm off. I have been answering F's letter to have her protest against any further amputation. . . Eugene didn't come home this winter. William owns Mother's place. He has three boys and a baby girl. A card from Lutia telling of Sylvia's marriage on the 22d of Feb. She is all alone now as far as the girls are concerned. Fannie and Lydia were married three years ago."[4]

In a letter to Eli, dated April 6, 1914, Frances writes: "I gt a card from Hattie + she says Aunt Julia is getting so childish + stubborn didn't want her to write so she slipped out to send a card. She said Aimee Parsons had her arm off last week. Two years ago her hand was taken off. Drs said it was cancer now it was in a [illegible] they thought in a wrinkle in the flap."[4]

Asher Sillick went to sea after his father died. When he returned, he couldn't find mother or sister, so went West. In 1860 he was a carpenter, living in Des Moines County, Iowa, with his wife, her sister Lucretia Mallory, and son Arthur. He fought in the Civil War in 1861 in the First Missouri Engineers, a sargeant in Captain Whitcombs company. He was "a fiddler for dancing."[2] In the 1920 census, taken in January, he is shown in Jefferson, Iowa, with his wife and their son, Eugene, living next to their son William. He died in Toolsboro, 8 March 1920, and is buried there in the Mallory Cemetery.[1,2,4] His widow, Fanny, died there 19 November 1930.[1,2]

LUCRETIA MATILDA MALLORY

Lucretia Matilda Mallory ["Lutia"] was the fourth and youngest child of Amelia (Bailey) Graves and Riley Mallory, She was born in Iowa in February 1852.[1,2] She married in Toolsboro, Louisa County, 5 November 1872, Oliver Cromwell McManus,[3] son of W. R. McManus, born in Jolene, Illinois, 29 October 1848.[4,5]

Soon after the marriage they removed to Blue River Valley, Nebraska, where they followed farming and cattle raising. His large herd of cattle was smitten with a grasshopper plague which entailed heavy losses, and he began to consider a change of climate. He disposed of all his property and moved to Ellensburg in Washington Territory.[6] Arriving in Cashmere, then known as Mission, in 1888 he purchased 322 acres at the mouth of Brender Canyon, planted an orchard, and lived with his wife and four children. He served as Justice of the Peace in Mission.[7]

"Sometime after 1910 [perhaps 1913[8]] he unexpectedly left his family and moved to Modoc County, California, where he purchased an orange grove and became the county commissioner of horticulture.

"In 1915 McManus was viciously killed in an incident which could have appeared in one of his own court dockets 10 years earlier.

"McManus, in his role of extension agent, served notice to well-known Alturas resident Bill Powers that he must spray his badly infested orchard or have the county do it for him. Powers tore up the notice and threatened to kill McManus if he did not leave his property, according to a 1915 issue of the Cashmere Plaindealer.

"McManus had Powers arrested and then proceeded to spray the orchard. But on the way into town, Powers convinced deputies that he would not harm McManus and persuaded them to let him return to his ranch.

"Powers returned home, got his rifle, and went into the orchard where he shot McManus in cold blood, according to the newspaper report. McManus died about 20 minutes later. Powers fled into the hills, but surrendered to police the next day."[7]

This event occurred in Lake City, Modoc County, 8 June 1915. Oliver was 66 years, 7 months, and 9 days old. He was buried in Cashmere, Chelan County, Washington.[4]

Lucretia died on 4 July 1936.[8]

ALBERT D. BAILEY

Albert D. Bailey was born in New Haven, Connecticut, 16 Sepember 1843,[1] the first child of Daniel Johnson and Mary Caroline (Johnson) Bailey. He married there 13 August 1867, Frances E. Treadway,[2] daughter of Lyman and Elizabeth (Johnson) Treadway. Frances was born there 25 November 1844.[1] That marriage was performed by the pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Albert died there 23 February 1903,[3] from cardiac dropsy due to valvular disease of the heart,[4] and Frances died there 20 March 1915[3] from pneumonia, grippe, and asthma, due to valvular disease of the heart.[5] Both were buried in the Grove Street Cemetery in New Haven.

THEODORE CURTISS, JR.

Theodore Curtiss, Jr. was the son of Theodore and Julia Ann (Bailey) Curtiss. The records of his birth and marriage and children, if any, have not been found.[1]

1. The 1900 Soundex, Illinois, Henderson Co., Gladstone, shows Theodore Curtis (54) born in Illinois, Sept 1846, with wife Mary I. Curtis (47), b. Illinois, July 1862, and seven children listed. The census itself (Fam. 113) shows them married 24 years and his father born in Ohio, mother born in Conn. This may or may not be our Theodore. Dona Benedict, in Julia's family group sheet, shows a daughter "Curtis, Hattie?" and a youngest daughter Mary.

EMILY HARRIET SAVAGE

Emily Harriet Savage was born in Middletown, Connecticut, 9 June 1840, the oldest child of William Henry and Adah Ann (Camp) Savage.[1,2] When her father died and her mother remarried, Emily moved into the home of her step-father, Albert Foster, on Lincoln Street in Meriden, Conneticut, and on 15 May 1872 she married there Sherman Gilbert Johnson,[2,3,4] son of Samuel Camp and Phebe Baldwin (Camp) Johnson, born in Sheffield (or Kingsville), Ohio, 12 June 1830.[2,5]

On 5 July 1872 Emily was dismissed from the Meriden Congregational Church to join the Presbyterian Church of Portsmouth, Ohio,[6] and she and Sherman resided in Portsmouth until his death there on 13 February 1880,[3] when she returned to her home in Meriden with her three small boys.

As a young child, the author was regularly taken to her home at 54 Lincoln Street to spend Christmas Eves with the family; Emily continued to live there until her death, from pneumonia, 23 October 1934.[1]

Children of Emily and Sherman Johnson:

i. Albert Foster Johnson, b. 10 Mar 1873; d. 17 Jul 1873.[7]

WALTER ELLIOT SMITH

Walter Elliot Smith was the second child of Noah C. and Harriet Newell (Savage) Smith. He was born in Connecticut about 1843.[1] and was baptized in the Berlin Second Congregational Church on 5 May 1843, and admitted to membership in that church on 10 May 1857.[2] In the Civil War he was in Company C of the 16th Connecticut Volunteer Infantry.[3]

The rest of his life story is something of a mystery. In the 1900 U.S. Census[4] we find May A. Smith and Harriet Savage Smith (his daughters) living in Berlin, Connecticut, with their aunt Harriet Smith, age 54. Walter is not there. In the 1910 Census Walter, a salesman for Babbet Metal, was living with them in Berlin, but May was gone. In 1920 Walter, was lliving in Hartford at 37 Capen Street with his two sisters, Harriet and Emma, and his daughter Harriet.[5]

Walter died 13 September 1932, age 89, and is buried in the Wilcox Cemetery in East Berlin, Connecticut.[3]

Children of Walter Smith:
i. May A. Smith, b. MN, May 1884.[1,4]
ii. Harriet Savage Smith, b. MN, Jul 1887;[1,4] d. 1934;[3] bur Wilcox Cem.

CLARA ELIZABETH SAVAGE

Clara Elizabeth Savage, the first child of Elliot and Sarah Foote (Southmayde) Savage, was born in Berlin, Connecticut, 9 April 1849.[1,2,3] On 20 September 1870 in Meriden, Connecticut, she married William G. Gallager.[1,2,4] William was born in Newark, New Jersey, 9 August 1846,[5] the son of James and Frances C. (Oliver) Gallager.

William was a "mechanic" at the time of his marriage and was so listed on the birth records of all of his children except Elliot, where he was shown as a "butcher." According to the Commemorative Biographical Record of New Haven County, James Gallager, the father of William G., son of Jacob and grandson of Jacob and Dr, Durang, was born in Philadelphia, where he grew to manhood and learned the trade of cooper. . . . Later Mr. Gallager became a minister in the Universalist Church and preached through Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Connecticut. . . . From Meriden he removed to Hamilton, Butler County, Ohio, and preached there a short time. His useful career was ended at the early age of 46 years. . . . William G. Gallager moved to Ohio with his father. After his death he returned to Meriden, where he attended the common schools. . . .

"At the age of 14 years he entered the Britannia shop of I. C. Lewis and worked there for four years. During the Civil War, although still a youth, he responded to the call for defenders of the flag, in March 1864, enlisting in Company F, 15th Connecticut Volunteers, under Col. Upham and Capt. R. Waterman. He was transferred with other recruits to the 7th Regiment and his discharge bears the date of August, 1865. . .

"In 1896 Mr. Gallager retired from activity in the [meat] business. Throughout his life he has been an active Republican. . . . In 1896 he was elected to the State Legislature. . . . In 1900 he was appointed a messenger of the United States Senate."

The Meriden Record for Tuesday, August 30, 1927 incorrectly states that W. G. Gallager was born in Meriden. It does give the correct date, and says that he was "the son of Rev. James Gallager, the first resident minister of the Universalist Society in this city."

Clara died 13 May 1924 [2,3] William died at 45 No. First Street, Meriden, 29 August 1927 of carcinoma of the stomach.[2,3,6] Both are buried in Section F of the Walnut Grove Cemetery there.[3]

Henry Elliot Savage, the eighth child and fifth son of Elliot and Sarah Foote (Southmayde) Savage, was born in Meriden, Connecticut, 8 February 1863,[1,2] and was baptized there in the 1st Congregational Church on 4 October 1863.[3] He married Viola Estelle Acres on 7 August 1887.[1]

The Meriden City Directory for 1886[4] says he removed to Holyoke, Massachusetts. The Holyoke City Directories indicate that he was there for three years, 1886-1888, but no record of any Savage marriage in that period was found by the city clerk. Henry was not found in the 1900 Soundex for Massachusetts.

No record of any births of children to this couple has been found, nor any record of their deaths, nor any indication to where they removed.

RUTH ELVIRA BOOTH

Ruth Elvira Booth was the fifth child and fourth daughter of Lester Smith and Harriet Sophia (Bulkeley) Booth. She was born in New Britain, Connecticut, 18 Nov 1867,[1] and married there on 5 June 1889 Willabey Clough Bigelow.[2,3] He was born there in June 1865.[3,4] Although we know his father was born in Massachusetts and his mother was born in Connecticut, the author has not been able to establish their identity.

According to the New Britain Directory, Willoughby C. Bigelow removed to Stamford about 1893-4. In 1900 we find them in Brooklyn, New York, living on St. John's Place,[4] and in 1920 they are living in New Rochelle, New York, on Paine Avenue.[5]

Willoughby died in New Rochelle, 21 Jan 1940.[7]

EMELINE MINERVA MERRIAM

Emeline Minerva Merriam was the third and youngest child and only daughter of Asaph II and Harriet E. (Savage) Merriam and was born in Meriden, Connecticut, 9 August 1876.[1,2] She removed with her parents to South Acton, Massacusetts, and married there on 31 January 1895 Leonard Greenwood Willard, son of Luke Taylor and Abbie E. (Greenwood) Willard,[3] born in Bolton, Massachusetts, 18 May 1873.[3] Leonard was a member of the First Baptist Church and the Wilder Lodge of Masons. He was a grocery salesman at Crofson's market according to the 1900 census and the "Willard Family Genealogy."

Leonard lived at 32 Boutelle St., Leominster. When he died in the Fairlawn Nursing Home in Leominster, on 1 April 1977, at the age of 103 years, 10 months, and 17 days, he had 2 sons, a daughter, 12 grandchildren, 15 great-grandchildren, and 4 great-great grandchildren.[4]

Emeline died in Leominster on 5 December 1937.[5] Both she and Leonard are buried in the Woodlawn Cemetery in Acton.[6] that either she died in 1938, as indicated on her gravestone, or her age as given at death was miscalculated by one year.

HOWARD EDWARD BOARDMAN

Howard Edward Boardman, the second and only surviving child of Edward Allen and Lucy Ellen (Savage) Boardman, was born in Meriden, Connecticut, 17 March 1879.[1,2,3] His mother died when he was eight and a half years old, and he went to live with his uncle, George Edwin Savage. When his father remarried, Howard chose to live with his step-parents, George and Charlotte, rather than return to his father and his father's bride, Florence.

He graduated from the Sheffield Scientific School of Yale University in 1899, and in 1900 he was employed in the maintenance of way department of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and two years later became engaged in the construction of the Hudson River tunnels which were to take trains out of the new station at Seventh Avenue and Thirty-third Street in New York City. There he was assistant engineer in charge of allignment. At the time he was living at 517 W. 151st St. in New York.[4]

He married in Allegheny, Pennsylvania, 24 September 1903, Enna Maude Jenkins of Allegheny, daughter of John and Emma (Sheil) Jenkins, born in Cannonsburg, Pennsylvania, 12 August 1878.[5] The work in New York lasted until 1909, and then he went to the Missouri Pacific Railroad, where for three years he was senior assistant engineer in charge of construction. From 1912 to 1916 he lived in Buenos Aires, Argentina, as chief assistant engineer of the Buenos Aires Western Railway in the construction of tunnels for passenger and freight trains and a subterranean station in the city.[4]

He returned to the United States in 1916 and became engineering assistant to the general valuation counsel of the New York Central Railroad, remaining there until 1923, when he became president and treasurer of the engineering firm of Foster Merriam & Co. in Meriden.

Late in 1931 he was appointed to the Dudley professorship of railroad engineering at Yale, the first person to hold that post.[3,4]

Before he could begin instruction of his classes, in February of 1932 he came down with a fatal attack of pneumonia, and died at his new home, 133 Armory Street, New Haven, on 28 February 1932.[3] He was buried in the Walnut Grove Cemetery in Meriden.[6]

His widow, Enna, returned to Meriden, where she lived first on Lambert Avenue, then on Lincoln Street, and finally at 77 Wilcox Avenue. During this period she often enjoyed spending summers on a farm in Cummington, Massachusetts. She died in Northampton, Massachusetts, 30 July 1963, aged 84 years,11 months, and 16 days, and was buried in the Walnut Grove Cemetery.[4,7]

ALBERT WILCOX SAVAGE

Albert Wilcox Savage was the third and youngest child and only son of George Edwin and Charlotte Preston (Foster).Savage and the only one to survive childhood. He was born in Meriden, Connecticut, 16 June 1889.[1,2] Although his sisters died before he was born, he did grow up with his cousin Howard Edward Boardman, and the two boys felt more like brothers than cousins.

Albert attended the Meriden public schools and then spent only one year, his senior high school year, at the Hotchkiss School in Lakeville, Connecticut. He graduated from Hotchkiss in the class of 1907 and went on to Yale, graduating three years later from the Yale Sheffield Scientific School (class of '10-S) with a degree in civil engineering.[3]

From Yale he went into the firm of Manning, Bowman & Co. in Meriden, where his father was president. He started as summer replacement for the office boy, but rose rapidly to the position of secretary of the firm, and after the death of his father he became treasurer also, and later vice-president.[3]

He married Faye Madeline Immick on 1 July 1916 at her home at 161 Curtis Street in Meriden.[1,4,5] Faye was the daughter of Henry Lewis and Adelaide Louise (Douglass) Immick, born in Meriden 13 August 1890.[6] As a wedding present Albert and Faye were given a house at 19 Harvard Avenue on the west side of town in the newly-formed residential area known as Bradley Park. The address was later changed to 20 Harvard Ave., and he lived there the rest of his life.[3]

Faye died in the Women's Hospital on Manhattan Island in New York City on 31 May 1923 from a thrombosis[7] a week after the caesarian birth of her second son,[7,8] and on 22 July 1925 Albert married Flora Sidona Hartenstein,[1,9] daughter of Albert O. and Ernestine (Hupfer) Hartenstein, born in Meriden, 16 April 1881.[1,10] Flora was a retired nurse who had been hired in August of 1923 to care for the baby after the death of Faye.[3]

Flora's sister Minnie Hartenstein married William Doerschlag; they lived at 205 South Broad Street, their lot being almost directly behind the Immick residence at 161 Curtis Street. Bill Doerschlag and Albert frequently enjoyed hunting and fishing together, and the two families often had Sunday picnics together by one or another of the trout streams in the Connecticut River valley. [3]

Flora died of breast cancer on 27 June 1933,[1,11,12,13] and on 11 July 1934, in San Jose California, Albert married, third, his widowed step-mother and cousin, Mildred Fuller (Foster) Savage.[1,14]

Albert was very active in Meriden civic affairs, church, Rotary Club, etc. At about the age of fifty he resigned his position at Manning, Bowman & Co. He was an advocate of annual physical examinations, and in one of these in 1939, his family physician discovered suspicious looking white blood cells, which proved to be evidence of leukemia.[3]

Finally in November 1954 the leukemia flared up, and he succumbed on 27 March 1955 in the Meriden Hospital, and was buried in Walnut Grove Cemetery.[1,3,11,12]

WILLIS ISAAC SAVAGE

Willis Isaac Savage was the third child and third son of Henry Elliot and Caroline Theodosia (Knapp) Savage. He was born in Berlin, Connecticut, 27 March 1880.[1,2]

He married Louisa Close Howard, the daughter of James Reynolds and Mary Ann (McGee, or MaGee) Howard, born in Greenwich,[3] [or Stanwich][4] Connecticut, 23 March 1884.[3]

"Louisa [born in Stanwich] was one of eight children of the Howards. The Rev. Frank C. Potter and his wife lived next door in Stanwich, where he was the minister at the Stanwich Congregational Church. Having no children of their own, they were fond of Louisa and wanted to care for her. When Rev. Potter and his wife, Olivia, moved to Middletown, Louisa, with her parents' permission, went with them. She attended Middletown High School, and later Mt. Holyoke College."[5]

"In March 22, 1913, Willis and Louisa married in Rev. Potter's home in Middletown."[6] Willis was a poultry farmer on Ledge Road in Berlin, and was assessor for the town in 1953.[7] He died in Berlin, 7 August 1960, age 80.[8]

Louisa was living in the Jerome Home in New Britain, Connecticut, up to 1975.[9] She died in the Plainville, Connecticut, hospital, 8 March 1975, of congestive heart failure, due to arteriosclerotic cardiovascular disease.[3,10] She was cremated and her ashes are in Evergreen Cemetery in New Haven, Connecticut.[3]

FRANK STACY SEARL

Frank Stacy Searl, was the second child and second son of Robert and Anna Eliza (Graves) Searl. He was born in Toolsboro, Iowa, 26 November 1862.[1,2,3]

He married first Minerva Livingston, daughter of Robert and Minerva Livingston, who died about January 1895. He married, second, Sophia Herr, daughter of Gregor and Augusta (Hook) Herr,[1] who was born probably in Mercer County, Illinois.[2]

The History of Louisa County states, "Frank Stacy Searl is the well known and popular proprietor of the Central Hotel at Oakville. His birth occurred at Toolsboro, Louisa county, Iowa, on the 26th of November, 1862, his parents being Robert and Eliza Searl, who were natives of Ohio and Iowa respectively. The father was a horse dealer. When our subject was five years of age the family removed to Ohio because of the ill health of the mother, who was suffering from consumption. She lived only a few years after locating in that state and the father survived her but one year. Unto them were born eight children, two of whom died in infancy, while the parents were residents of Toolsboro, this county. The others were as follows: William, living in Dayton, Ohio; Frank S., of this review; . . .

"Frank S. Searl attended the common schools in the acquirement of an education, and, being left an orphan at a tender age, was early thrown upon his own resources for a livehood. He was employed in various positions but has spent the greater part of his life in hotel and restaurant work. For a time he worked as a button cutter in the button factory at Keithsburg, Illinois, and for fifteen years he was a resident of New Boston, that state. Two years ago he came to Oakville, Iowa, and took charge of the Central Hotel, which he has since conducted in a high capable manner. . . .

"Mr. Searl has twice married. His first wife bore the maiden name of Minerva Livingston and was a daughter of Robert and Minerva Livingston of Illinois. Mr. Livingston still survives but has lost his wife. By his first wife Mr. Searl had one daughter, Irma Elaine, whose birth occurred on the 30th of April, 1894. Nine months later the mother passed away. For his second wife Mr. Searl chose Miss Sophia Herr, a daughter of Gregor Herr, a sketch of whom appears on another page of this work. Unto them have been born four children as follows: a son who was born November 4, 1902, and died the following day, being buried in the family lot in the cemetery at New Boston, Illinois; Friend Stacey, whose birth occurred on the 31st of October, 1903; Feh Maxine, whose natal day was March 7, 1905; and Robert Herr Lloyd, who was born October 7, 1910. . . . His wife attends the services of the Methodist Episcopal church."[2]

No record has been found for the death of either Frank or Sophia.

Child of Frank and Minerva Searl:

i. Irma Elaine Searl, b. 30 Apr 1894.[1]

Children of Frank and Sophia Searl:

(prob. all born New Boston)[1]

ORVILLE DAY MCMANUS

Orville Day McManus was the oldest child of Oliver Cromwell and Lucretia Matilda (Mallory) McManus. He was born in Nebraska in November 1873,[1,2,3] He taught in the Chumstick and Methrow Valleys, and once saved a boy who was floating down the Methrow River, which was in flood stage. This act made him realize how precious life was. He went back to Nebraska to study for the ministry and took his brother Lee R. McManus with him,[4] and in the 1900 Census we find him in Louisville, Kentucky, as as student in the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, unmarried.[3] In 1902 his brother Lee had joined him in Louisville, and they were rooming together at 830 2nd Street for a year or so. [5,6]

Shortly thereafter Orville married Ida Merrit.[1,4] No record has been found of that marriage nor of any children of Orville's. He died at the age of 30 of consumption while on a visit in Cashmere, Washington, in 1903.[1,4] His widow, Ida, disappeared, and no one in the family knows if she married again or where she went.[6]

HAROLD CHAMBERS ROOD

Harold Chambers Rood, the oldest child of Franklin Deming and Agnes Bulkeley (Chambers) Rood, was born in Hartford, Connecticut, on 10 April 1887.[1,2,3,4,5] He married Ada Willis Lyon on 21 December 1912 in Bridgeport, Connecticut.[1] They were married by E. J. Craft, rector of Christ Church; at that time his residence was given as "Detroit Mich."[6] She was born in Bridgeport, 13 April 1887, the daughter of Henry W. and Ada (Cannon) Lyon.[1,4,6]

Harold "graduated from the public schools in Hartford in 1906 and shortly thereafter was employed in the automobile division of the Pope Manufacturing Company as a salesman in the southern states. In 1912 he joined the Travelers Insurance Company, where he worked until 1916 as a special agent. In that year he was asked to become secretary of the Red Star Company, manufacturers of men's garters, hose supporters and associated items. He was elected president of that firm in 1919." He was a member of the Bridgeport Chamber of Commerce and a member of the executive board of the Manufacturers Association of Bridgeport and a member of the Black Rock Yacht Club and the Algonquin Club.[5]

Henry Lyon developed the sanitary napkin belt; he was working for the post office at the time, and quit and founded a company. His son Harold joined the company.

Harold "was involved in a collision with a C. R. and L. bus on 13 December 1947 at Main and West Broad streets, Stratford."[5] He died on 23 December following.[1,5,7] Ada died in Bridgeport, 2 May 1965.[1,4,8,] His services were conducted in St. John's Episcopal Church, and her services were conducted in St. Paul's Episcopal Church. Both are buried in the Mountain Grove Cemetery there.[4,9]

ROGER LYFORD BIGELOW

Roger Lyford Bigelow, the second child and second son of Willoughby Clough and Ruth Elvira (Booth) Bigelow, was born in New Britain, Connecticut, 27 February 1893.[1,2] His wife's name was Edith, and she was born in New York about 1897.[3] He worked in real estate and insurance in New Rochelle, NY, and in the 1923 New Rochelle City Directory he was shown as "mgr Fish & Marvin" residing at 105 Paine Avenue.[4] Roger and Edith were living in nearby Larchmont, NY, in 1936, but in 1938 he was living there alone. The directory does not show whether he was a widower or divorced, but the New Rochelle vital records do not show any death for her in the period 1936-1938.

The 1947 New Rochelle City Directory, p. 57, shows Roger, still in real estate and insurance, and still residing in Larchmont, with no wife listed.

Child of Roger and Edith Bigelow:
i. Jean Bigelow, b. NY, 1917.[3]

HOWARD FOSTER BOARDMAN

Howard Foster Boardman was the second and younger child and second son of Howard Edward and Enna Maude (Jenkins) Boardman and was born in White Plains, New York, 26 February 1918.[1] During his childhood he was known as "Foster" Boardman. He attended Choate School in Wallingford, Connecticut, and graduated from Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio, in 1941. There he met Jean Sanderson, a classmate, and they were married in Chicago, Illinois, 17 June 1942, where both were students in the Chicago Theological Seminary.[1]

Jean was born in Lawrence, Kansas, 15 April 1920, the daughter of Ross Warren and Lucille Belknap (Harris) Sanderson. She had lived in Wichita, Kansas, and Baltimore, Maryland, and Buffalo, New York.

Howard was ordained a minister in the Congregational Church. He and Jean had a summer residence in Peacham, Vermont, and in 1983 they finished winterizing it to use as a permanent residence. In May 1983 he retired to Peacham.

On 20 February 1994, after a long struggle with cancer, Howard died quietly in his sleep in their old house in Peacham. He had entered the hospital on the previous 13 December. "pain had become his daily burden. . .On the sixth day of outpatient radiation therapy he finally gave in to the fact that he simply could not climb up on that table another time."[2]

The author attended a memorial service for Howard at North Congregational Church, St. Johnsbury, Vermont, on Saturday, 19 March 1994.[3]

ALBERT WILCOX SAVAGE, JR.

Albert Wilcox Savage, Jr., was born on 24 May 1923 in the Women's Hospital on Manhattan Island, New York City, NY, the son of Albert Wilcox and Faye Madeline (Immick) Savage of Meriden, Connecticut.[1] He grew up in Meriden and attended the Hotchkiss School (class of '41) in Lakeville, Connecticut, and Oberlin College in Ohio.

In February 1942 he was called up for pilot training in the Army Air Corps, and while stationed in Chattanooga, Tennessee, he met Joanna Griffies Corley and subsequently married her in Columbus, Ohio, 5 May 1944, at the Lockbourne Army Air Base. She was the daughter of Frank Thomas and Pauline Elizabeth (Griffies) Corley, born in Chattanooga, 1 April 1923.

He served in China, flying C-47 transport planes, and after the end of the war returned to Oberlin, where he graduated in 1948. Then on to Yale University, where he received a PhD in physical chemistry in 1951.

From Yale he went to the Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory in Los Alamos, New Mexico, where he did research in uranium chemistry and participated in Operation Ivy, the first full-scale thermonuclear explosion, in Eniweetok. While in Los Alamos he became a member of the Masonic Lodge and Shrine and was president of the Unitarian Church and a member of the supervisory committee of the Los Alamos Credit Union; and in 1957 they removed to Espanola, New Mexico.

In 1968 his first marriage ended in divorce, and in the Unitarian Church in Los Alamos, on 22 October 1969, he married Mary Irene (Ramsey) Hakkila, daughter of Frank Eugene and Lela Irene (Slagle) Ramsey, born in Youngstown, Ohio, 3 November 1931. She was the divorced wife of Eero Arnold Hakkila, and the mother of three small boys, Jon Eric, Mark Douglas, and Gregg Arnold Hakkila.

In July 1971 he took early retirement. He and Mary Irene and their three boys removed to Kailua, Hawaii, for a year, but returned to Espanola in 1972, and then to Los Alamos.

In 1979, with the last boy out of school, they again removed to Hawaii, but in May 1980 moved to Las Vegas, Nevada, which provided a more central location for family connections and genealogical research. In 1996 they purchased a summer home in Prescott, Arizona.

Joanna currently (1997) resides in Brooklyn, New York, with her oldest daughter, Antoinette ["Toni"] Savage.[3]

Children of Albert and Joanna Savage:

FRANKLIN ELI SALA

Franklin Eli Sala, the second child and only son of John Adams Graves and Priscilla (House) Sala, was born in Allen County, Kansas, 9 December 1869 (or 1870).[1,2] He married in Neligh, Nebraska, 13 October 1898, Anna Alice Bogardus, daughter of Watson J. and Alida (Brown) Bogardus, born in Nebraska, 24 July 1880.[3,4] "Franklin Eli Sala [in] 1897 entered the Nebraska Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church and was sent to Bartlet, Nebraska, in September. He remained there until September 1898 when he was assigned to Wolbach, Nebr., where he remained until 1899. . . .

" On September 27, 1899, Conference convened in Omaha, Nebr., and Frank and Alice moved to Omaha right after Conference where he went to work for the Nebraska Childrens Home Society.

"In September, 1900, they moved to Marshall, Oklahoma, where he served a church until September, 1901. . .

"In September, 1901, they returned to Nebraska and went to Chadron where he served the Childrens Home Society until the fall of 1902. They then moved to Ewing, Nebr., where Opie Ethel was born April 10, 1904 and so was Roy John on March 6, 1903.

"In May, 1904, Frank quit the Childrens Home Society because he could no longer do public speaking because of a throat ailment. They moved to a farm west of Elgin, Nebr., near a place known as Clay Ridge or Park Center. . . . . Frank continued to work for the Bryan Memorial Hospital [in Lincoln, NE 1920-1939] until his retirement in September 1939 after he suffered a heart attack while on a train trip. . . .

"As soon as Franklin was sufficiently recovered the family moved to Kirkland, Washington. . . ."[5]

Franklin died in Kirkland, King County, Washington, 22 November 1940,[1] and is buried in the Kirkland Cemetery.[3] Anna died in Portland Oregon, 19 June 1959 and is buried with her husband in Kirkland.[3]

MARY MERILLA SALA

Mary Merilla Sala was the fourth child and third daughter of John Adams Graves and Priscilla (House) Sala and was born in Salen, Allen County, Kansas, 18 March 1874.[1] She married first in Muscatine, Iowa, 29 September 1892[1] or 1893,[2] Charles A. Martin, who was born in Muscatine, 19 April 1870.[2] He died there 15 December 1899, and she married, second, about 1904 a man named Belcher.[2] They were divorced, and she married, third, about 1911, a man named Stinnett (or Sinnett),[2] who died about 1916.

Dona Benedict quotes from a letter by Jo Martin Nicholas in October 1985 to Margaret Sala Campbell: "Mary Sala Martin as a young widow took in ironing and washing; baked cakes for wealthy people. Later worked in a button factory making novelty pieces from Mississippi River pearlshell."

And from an earlier letter by Jo to Margaret [19 Jul 1985]: "Raymond F. Martin was the second son, third child of Charles and Mary Merilla (Sala) Martin. I knew she was buried in the Martin plot in Muscatine, IA, as Mary Martin, but I also had dim memories of seeing a picture of her in a casket with the name St. . . .t. After much probing I learned she had been widowed about 5 years, married a Belcher, divorced him, remained single about five years and married this older man whose family was grown, named Stinnett. He was of a pioneer family of Muscatine. He lived about four or five years after they maried. She died of cancer at 56."

It would appear that Helen (Martin) Bancroft had no children. In a newsletter item in June 1987, when she was 91, living in Lutheran Homes, she mentions her niece Helen Metz, but no mention of children.[3]

Children of Mary and Charles Martin:

273. i. Leo Joseph Martin, b. Muscatine, 22 Feb 1894;[2] d. LA, 1 May 1959;[2] m. 25 Jan 1919, Gladys Imogene Horn, b. Mason City, IL, 25 Jan 1900, d. 23 Jan 1981 (lung cancer).[2]

ii. Helen Martin, b. Muscatine, 7 Feb 1896;[2] d. there 3 Apr 1989; m. Arthur Bancroft, b. 21 Mar 1896, d. 4 Jun 1953 (heart disease).[2]

iii. Raymond Frederick Martin, b. 14 Oct 1898;[2] m. Ethel Holliday.[2]

1. Letter, family group sheet, and chart handed to the author by Dona E. Benedict, 19 Jan 1996.
2. Chart from Gene McManus, titled "Family of Vivian Sillick Tillman." This handwritten chart is crowded at this point and difficult to interpret.
3. Vivian Tillman and her sister Bernice Wenzel say that Robin Sillick, a daughter of Robin and Eva, married Gayle Matheson and had six children. This is also indicated on the chart furnished by Gene McManus. This appears to be in error.
4. Telephone interview with Gayle Matheson, 7 May 1998.

FLORA KENDALL COOPER

Flora Kendall Cooper, the oldest child of David Sylvester and S. Josephine (Sillick) Cooper,[1] was born in Iowa in February, 1884.[2,3] In 1908 she was a milliner, living with her parents at 509 South Garfield Avenue in Burlington, Iowa, and in 1912 she was no longer with them.[4] She married Chester Nivins[1] and died in 1965. She is buried in Section 106 of the Aspen Grove Cemetery in Burlington, Iowa.

Children of Flora and Chester Nivins:

Harold E. Cooper was the third child and only son of David Sylvester and S. Josephine (Sillick) Cooper.[1,2] He was born in Iowa in November 1894 and in 1900 we find him living in Burlington, Iowa, with his parents and two sisters.[2] In 1908 he is not listed in the City Directory with them, but in 1916 he is back. Up to 1926 he is still living with them at 209 South Garfield Ave., but in 1928 we find him with a wife, "Marion." At that time he was working in sales at Hanna-Shreves Co., investment brokers. Sometime between 1926 and 1928 he married Marian Wahl.[1]

Children of Harold and Marian Cooper: (?)
i. David Cooper[1]
ii. James Cooper.[1]

---

1. Again the handwritten chart from Gene McManus is somewhat confusing. It says,"Flora Kendall m. Chester Nevins M. Kendall," and "Erma Watson m. Roy Watson" and "Harold + Marian Wahl" with "David" and "James" bracketed after Harold + Marian, apparently children of this couple. No dates given except for birth of S. Josephine.
2. U.S. Census, 1900, Iowa, Des Moines County, Burlington Township, SD 1, ED 12, Sheet 7A, City of Burlington, west precinct, 5th Ward, line 41, 640 Foster St., Dwel. #137, Fam. #139, gives the state and month of birth.

MARY J. SILLICK

Mary J. Sillick, the second child of Frederick Riley and Nellie (Jamison) Sillick, was born in Iowa in July 1896.[2] She married Will Mathes. She died 29 Jul 1955.[1]

Children of Mary and Will Mathes:
(number not certain)
i. William Mathes[1]
ii. Jerry Mathes.[1]
iii. Jane Mathes.[1]

1. The chart from Gene McManus shows "Mary + Will Mathes" and following this a bracket with three names (presumably their children); Wm, Jerry, Jane. Under Mary is says "d. 7-29-55.

Albert Wilcox Savage III ["Terry"] was born in Oberlin, Ohio, 7 September 1947,[1] the second child and only son of Albert Wilcox, Jr., and Joanna Griffies (Corley) Savage. He attended the Hotchkiss School in Lakeville, Connecticut, and Stanford University in Palo Alto, California, and then served a term in the United States Army. While stationed in Maryland he met Mary Jane Farkas, ["Jane"] who was working for the DOD. They were married in Comus, Maryland, 18 November 1972. Jane was the daughter of Arthur Joseph and Anne Bernice (Kidd) Farkas, born in Lodi, Ohio, 27 September 1949.[2]

After his discharge from the army, Terry returned to Stanford. He later earned a MS in computer science, and went to work for TRW. They removed to Aurora, Colorado, and then to Maryland and then Virginia, when Terry worked for a while in Washington, DC. Still with TRW, he was sent to Australia, where they lived for several years, and where their third child was born.

Then back to Virginia, and next to Littleton, Colorado, where he now (1998) lives, still working for TRW.

While living in Aurora, Jane joined the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints. She also has taught school.

MURIEL RAMONA HALL

Muriel Ramona Hall, the only child of [Herman] Ray and Hattie Belle (Sala) Hall, was born in Gridley, California, 22 February 1911.[1]

"Muriel lived in San Francisco & married an Italian (Pa_____). and as far as I know they had only one child named Judy. My mother had a visit from Judy about 1944 but no other contact since then.

"When Muriel Ray Hall was a little girl she was being raised by Hattie (grandmother) and Mamie, my mother, who was an old maid. From grandma weaving carpets, there were a lot of unsuitable old clothes that children could dress up in. Little Muriel would dress up and strut around proclaiming that she was 'the Italian lady.' Made her very Yankee grandmother Hattie very angry. When little Muriel grew up she went to San Francisco and there lived in the Italian section and married an Italian. Muriel Sala was often taken by the Italians as one of them. As she grew older she looked even more so. The three oldest Sala girls had red hair. Mom's was just beautiful. We always figured that the original Sala must have been from northern Italy where the Moors went through and brought the red hair." [2]

Muriel married at St. Charles Roman Catholic Church, San Francisco, California, 26 April 1930, John Louis Pastorino, son of John Pastorino, born in California about 1908.[3] On the marriage certificate the full name of the bride is given as "Muriel Ray Hall." She signed it "Ray M. Hall." The groom was a florist; she was a stenographer in a department store. She claimed an "age last birthday" of 21 years; he gave 22 years for his age. Also on the marriage certificate Muriel gives her mother's maiden name as "Harriet Belle Sala."

No John Pastorino of or near the correct age has been found in the Social Security Death Index. Therefore he is probably still living.

Child of Muriel and John Pastorino:
i. Judy Pastorino.[1]

COMMENTS ON INDEX

The following index is intended to be an index of individuals rather than of names. This means that if two people have the same name, they will be indexed separately; only when it is reasonably certain that two separate occurrences of a name refer to the same person will the page references be indexed under one entry.

Married women are indexed under their maiden names as well as each married name, regardless of the form in which it occurs in the text. In this index curved parentheses are reserved for the maiden names of married women.

Certain page numbers in this index are given in bold face. These numbers refer to pages where a descendant of Seth Savage is given a more complete description.
